Farm Field Days

This is part of the national "Ag in the Classroom" program and is sponsored by local agriculture organizations. Farm Field Day gives students an opportunity to see a well-managed farm as well as specific demonstrations on dairy, soil erosion, embryology, beef, pork, sheep and farm production. The purpose behind this project is to help children understand where food comes from; and thus, the importance of agriculture in our society. Approximately 2,000 elementary school children from across the Salt Lake Valley will gather at Butterfield Farm to participate in Farm Field Days, a school field trip designed to extend classroom learning to a farm setting.
