Unification Through Tragedy

City Council Member Sherrie Ohrn

Seventeen years ago, I was sitting at my office desk and had a small television playing the morning news. I watched in horror as the events of September 11, 2001 played out in front of me on that small screen. I added my tears of sorrow to the many shed by my countrymen for all the innocent victims that lost their lives that day. Then, out of the ashes of tragedy, I watched a nation come together. People smiled at each other, slowed down a little and seemed for a time to be united by our commonalities and not focused on our differences. This was the silver lining to the terribly dark cloud that had been thrust upon our nation. It seems that tragedy can bring out the best in people.

I watched this unity take place on a much smaller scale in our community Saturday the 15th. I looked out the window of my car to see a large plume of smoke coming from a home in my neighborhood. I then received a call asking if I could help evacuate animals for my friends. After making my way through the congestion I was able to help with the evacuations. It was such a powerful experience to see the number of individuals that were there to give aid to those in need. I received numerous calls and texts from people willing to house and transport animals or people displaced by the fire. Although tragically two homes were lost, many were saved that were in the direct path of this fire. The quick response by a caring community, and an amazing group of first responders, most assuredly lessened the loss that could have occurred and most importantly, with the exception of a few chickens, no lives were lost.

Herriman City Police Department Inaugural Swearing-In

On Thursday, September 27th, the Herriman City Police Department held their Inaugural Swearing-In Ceremony. This ceremony presented Herriman City with 35 new officers who took the oath of office as they pledged to serve the community under the newly-formed HPD.

In July, Herriman City selected Troy Carr to serve as Chief of Police. Chief Carr was charged with the difficult task of forming a highly-qualified police department from the ground up in a four-month time frame.

"I am honored to present this group of incredibly advanced individuals as the future public safety servants of Herriman City," Carr said. "Though our preparation time was limited, the proper foundation has been formed with a group that is excited to build a culture dedicated to ensuring the safety needs of the community are continually met."

With leadership and officers hired from six departments across the state, HPD was eager for their inaugural shift, which took place at 12:01 a.m on Sunday, September 30th. They desire to see an increase in the law enforcement presence that includes a deeper connection with the community and heritage as they meet the increasing needs of the rapidly-growing Herriman area.

No changes will be made to emergency calls, but Herriman residents are now asked to call Salt Lake Valley Emergency Communications at 801-840-4000 for nonemergency police calls. The department's business number also changes to 801-858-0035.

HOWL-O-WEEN Pet Safety Tips

Salt Lake County Animal Services

Halloween can be a lot of fun for humans, but pets may not appreciate the costumes and candy. Protect your pets from Halloween dangers with these HOWL-O-WEEN tips!

1. Keep candy out of reach: All forms of chocolate and the artificial sweetener can be poisonous to dogs & cats. Call your emergency vet if your pet has eaten either.
2. Keep pets confined and away from the door: Dogs may be likely to dart out the door, or become anxious with trick-or-treaters in costumes and yelling for candy. Put them in a crate or a back room and keep everyone safe.
3. Close the blinds or drapes, disconnect doorbells: If your dog reacts every time someone walks by or rings the doorbell close the drapes and disconnect the doorbell.
4. Keep outdoor pets inside before and after Halloween: Keep dogs and cats indoors to prevent them from being injured, stolen, or poisoned as part of a Halloween prank.
5. Don't approach dogs while in costume: Even if you know the dog, a strange costume or mask can frighten them. They may not recognize you in costume. If a dog escapes a house or yard and runs up to you, tell your child to stand like a tree, and wait for the owner to grab the dog.
6. Test out pet costumes before: Make sure the costume isn't causing them distress, or giving them an allergic reaction. It shouldn't restrict their movement, ability to breath, bark, or meow.
7. Leave them at home: It may be best with all the distractions to leave your pet at home while trick-or-treating. Take them for a walk earlier in the day before the ghosts and goblins come out for the night to spook them.

Is your pet microchipped? Don't forget all pets in Salt Lake County can receive a free microchip at our location, 511 W 3900 S, in Salt Lake City. Animal Services is open Monday – Saturday, 10 AM – 6 PM. Check out our website, AdoptUtahPets.com for more information.

Additionally, fund raising efforts led to accounts being set up, which have already received thousands of dollars of contributions. Here in Herriman, amongst the ashes of this tragic fire, I watched a community grow more united by serving each other.

We live in an amazing community! As your City Council, we are dedicated to doing all we can to protect and preserve this amazing community connection where neighbors watch out for one another. One way we are accomplishing this is by moving forward in providing an extensive trails system for residents to recreate on. These parks and community spaces will provide opportunities to play together and deepen the appreciation we have for one another. We now have in place a Herriman Hills Open Space Master Plan to illustrate our conviction to preserving these vanishing open spaces in our valley. Our team is working hard to put in place a good procedure for developing these trails to provide optimum recreational activities, while minimizing any negative impact on current residents. We believe that these recreational investments in our community will pay dividends for many years to come in the lives of our residents, and will help make Herriman the best place to live, work, and play.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE Workshop

Dear Edwina JR.

September 20, 21, 22, and 24th at the Rosecrest Pavilion, the Herriman Arts Council's Children's Theatre Workshop production of Dear Edwina Jr. hit the stage and performed in front of a record crowd.

Grace Colvin, who played Edwina Spoonapple, and more than 125 children participated and had the crowd laughing all night long with their clever dialogue and charming stage presence.

Wildfire Update

Rose Canyon Fire:

On Wednesday, September 12th, a wildfire broke out in Rose Canyon in the Step Mountain area. The fire spread quickly, but Unified Fire crews were able to get a handle on the blaze by nightfall utilizing a ground and air attack. In total, 60 acres were burned, as well as a small structure and a camper trailer.

Hi Country Fire:

Saturday afternoon, September 15th, a fire broke out in the Hi Country area, due to a juvenile playing with fireworks. The fire quickly spread, leading to evacuation of the neighborhood. By Saturday night, UFA and other local fire organizations were able to contain the fire. In total, more than 100 acres were burned, including two homes.
