Herriman City Celebrates the Grand Opening of Arches Park with a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

HERRIMAN, Utah—Join us for the ribbon cutting of Herriman’s newest recreation destination, Arches Park!

Arches Park is located at 12101 S. Tower Arch Lane, and features a 5,000 square foot playground, restrooms, a pavilion, a walking path and areas for slacklining and hammocking. This park will connect to the Midas Creek Urban Trail System via a walking path and bridge and include a large grass space, which will be available for sports practice rentals in 2020.

The park is full of whimsy and enchantment displayed through the showcasing of hand carved totem poles for hammocks and slack-lines, playground equipment shaped like charming critters, ropes, slides, and swings. Attendees can slackline or hammock while enjoying the atmosphere of the large grass open space.

“One of the most unique amenities in Arches Park are the totem poles,” said Wendy Thomas, Director of Parks, Recreation, and Events. “Each pole was hand carved by Jim Valentine, an artist based in Utah, and designed to give children lounging in hammocks or laying on the grass an interesting and different image to look at. The playground at Arches is also different than any other playground in Herriman as it features large animals that make their home in and around the park and are perfect for climbing on and imaginary play.”

During the ribbon cutting ceremony, the City will provide Otter Pops for the children and host a scavenger hunt that takes guests through the various features of the park. Parents are encouraged to bring their children to play and enjoy the new park features.
